

Canada- Afghanistan Solidarity Committee (CASC)
Canada in Afghanistan Panel Events:
MONTREAL, HALIFAX, REGINA & WINNIPEG - May 2010

For more info on all events, please visit: <http://afghanistan-canada-solidarity.org/>

CASC Event in Halifax on May 16

A Panel Responding to the Question: What Should Canada Do in Afghanistan Post-2011?

Date and Time: Sunday, May 16, 2010

Location: Maritime Conservatory
6199 Chebucto Road, Halifax, Nova Scotia

Panelists:

NAJIA HANEEFI is a founder of the Afghan Women's Political Participation Committee and is the former head of Afghanistan's largest women's organization, the Afghan Women's Education Centre (AWEC). Ms. Haneefi currently resides in Ottawa.

TERRY GLAVIN is an author of several books and a journalist whose writing from Afghanistan has appeared in newspapers and magazines as diverse as Democratiya, the National Post, the online daily The Tyee and Vancouver Review. He is a co-founder of the Canada-Afghanistan Solidarity Committee.

LAURYN OATES, a human rights and gender equity activist with CASC and Canadian Women for Women in Afghanistan (CW4WA).

ANDREW BECKETT (Moderator). Resident, General Surgery Dalhousie University and Medical Officer, Canadian Armed Forces.

RSVP (required) and media inquiries:
info@afghanistan-canada-solidarity.org

CASC Event in Montreal on May 17

A Panel Responding to the Question: What Should Canada Do in Afghanistan Post-2011?

Date and Time: May 17 from 7-9pm

Location: Atwater Library
1200 avenue Atwater
Westmount, QC

Panelists:

ERSHAD AHMADI, Deputy Chief of the Afghanistan Mission to Canada

LAURYN OATES, a human rights and gender equity activist with CASC and Canadian Women for Women in Afghanistan (CW4WA).

TERRY GLAVIN is an author of several books and a journalist whose writing from Afghanistan has appeared in newspapers and magazines as diverse as Democratiya, the National Post, the online daily The Tyee and Vancouver Review. He is a co-founder of the Canada-Afghanistan Solidarity Committee.

STEPHEN SAIDEMAN is Canada Research Chair in International Security and Ethnic Conflict

BERYL WAJSMAN (Moderator) is Editor and publisher of The Metropolitan

RSVP (required) and media inquiries:
info@afghanistan-canada-solidarity.org

CASC Event in Winnipeg on May 18

Date & Time: Tuesday, May 18th Time: 7-9pm

Location: Global College
515 Portage Ave
Winnipeg, MB

Panelists:

ERSHAD AHMADI, Deputy Chief of the Afghanistan Mission to Canada

ANNE LONGSTON is an independent consultant working in the field of international education. She served in Kabul as the technical advisor to the Afghanistan Minister of Education.

LASHA TCHANTOURIDZE is a research associate in the Centre for Defence and Security Studies and an adjunct professor in the faculty of graduate studies at the University of Manitoba. He specializes in foreign policy, strategic studies, and politics of the former Soviet Union.

LAURYN OATES, a human rights and gender equity activist with CASC and Canadian Women for Women in Afghanistan (CW4WA).

TERRY GLAVIN is an author of several books and a journalist whose writing from Afghanistan has appeared in newspapers and magazines as diverse as Democratiya, the National Post, the online daily The Tyee and Vancouver Review. He is a co-founder of the Canada-Afghanistan Solidarity Committee.

RSVP (required) and media inquiries:

info@afghanistan-canada-solidarity.org

CASC Event in Regina on May 20

Date and Time: May 20 Event starts at 7pm

Location: Royal Saskatchewan Museum Theatre
2445 Albert Street

Panelists:

HIS EXCELLENCY JAWED LUDIN was appointed Afghanistan's Ambassador to Canada in May,

2009, after serving as ambassador to the Nordic countries, based in Oslo. Prior to his diplomatic posts, Ambassador Ludin served as chief spokesperson for Afghan President Hamid Karzai between 2003 and 2005 chief of staff to the president from 2005 to 2007.

NAJIA HANEEFI is a founder of the Afghan Women's Political Participation Committee and is the former head of Afghanistan's largest women's organization, the Afghan Women's Education Centre (AWEC). Ms. Haneefi currently resides in Ottawa.

TERRY GLAVIN is an author of several books and a journalist whose writing from Afghanistan has appeared in newspapers and magazines as diverse as Democratiya, the National Post, the online daily The Tyee and Vancouver Review. He is a co-founder of the Canada-Afghanistan Solidarity Committee.

LAURYN OATES, a human rights and gender equity activist with CASC and Canadian Women for Women in Afghanistan (CW4WA).

RSVP (required) and media inquiries:

info@afghanistan-canada-solidarity.org

Refreshments served.